VOLUME LXV., NUMBER 30. REDWOOD CITY, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1925. ESTABLISHED 1859

LOCAL MERCHANTS FORM ASSOCIATION

A large number of the merchants of Redwood City combined this week in the Redwood City Merchants Association, an organization to improve conditions of merchants in the city. The first meeting of the organization was held Monday at Moose hall, where officers of the association were elected. Percy Morgan of the firm of Stafford & Long, was chosen president of the new body; Charles Zollinger of the Peninsula Adjustment Bureau, secretary, and Otto of the San Carlos Creamery elected treasurer.

Manager addressed the meeting concerning the matter of out-of-town merchants attempting to cut into the trade at the expense of the local merchants who spend their money and pay taxes here, and aid in the city development. The inclusion of the Palo Alto paper circulated here, was discussed. Zollinger presented the assembled merchants a combined list of the advertisements carried by the Palo Alto paper, which is being circulated in some of the homes of Redwood City, in connection with a peper published here. The circulation of this outside paper, under the guise of a local paver was presented by the merchants, who determined to take some action to stop this matter stopped.

Later in the day Zollinger called on the publisher of the Palo Alto paper, who is also publisher of the Redwood City paper, and asked him to discontinue the inclusion of it in the paper. This he refused to do, stating that when asked to discontinue this practice he stated, according to Zollinger, that he had told the merchants of Redwood City to support his paper, and as they had failed to do so, he was going to force them to do so by sending the circulation with the Palo advertisements into every home where his Redwood paper went.

Other matters which were considered by the newly formed organization were some ordinances which will later be presented to the board of trustees for their consideration. One relates to persons moving into and out of the town, who by the proposed ordinance would have to be registered with the police department. This would prevent, the merchants think, the practice of some persons of leaving town owing many of the merchants.

Other constructive legislation was discussed and the secretary was directed to draw up a suitable code of ethics. Dues were fixed at one dollar a month.

SEQUOIA WINS FROM PALO ALTO HIGH

The Sequoia football team is hilarious today over the defeat of their rival of long standing, Palo Alto, who went down to defeat before the local footballers last evening with a score of 7 to 6. The local boys played a strong and scientific game and held the visitors down to a score of 7 to 0 during the first half. In the second half of the game, however, the Palo Alto boys succeeded in crawing up to 6 points with the local team advancing their score. This victory places Sequoia in a good position to capture the district championship.

SPIRITED GATHERING HEARS HARBOR TALKS

The improvement of the Redwood City harbor and the development of the industrial sites contiguous to the town formed the subject of discussion at a mass meeting of the business men of Redwood City and adjoining communities held Wednesday evening at the Sequoia hotel. The meeting was called for the purpose of informing the citizens of Redwood City regarding the important hearing which will be held next Tuesday at the city hall, when the claims of Redwood City for federal aid will be heard by Major Schultz and other engineers from the War Department of the United States.

The chief speakers Wednesday evening were F. T. Letchfield director of the Industrial department of the San Francisco Chamber of Comemrce and Lewis E. Hass, manager of the same department. The support of the San Francisco chamber of commerce was pledged to Redwood City in furthering its plans for industrial development along the bay shore. Both speakers emphasized the fact that Redwood City was the favored point in the whole western shore of the bay for great developments.

Other speakers were Elmore B. Hinman, president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, who presided at the meeting, Frank Towne, Judge Edgerton Lakin of Palo Alto, M. Stevens, who is constructing a large cannery here and others.

The importance of a large attendance being present at the meeting Tuesday was emphasized by the chairman. The action of the War department will be largely the result of the co-operation which they meet from the people of the town. If a large and enthusiastic attendance is present to welcome them the impression will be a favorable one.

Principal Clarence Argo of the high school urged a better attendance has a winning team he stated, one which will be a great advertisement to the town. They need the support of the people of the town. Argo also introduced Coach Kelly and Assistant Coach Ryan, both of whom have been active in developing the winning team of which the high school is now so proud.

Mayfield Once Sought to Annex

From the old files of the Times-Gazette it is learned that the ancient town of Mayfield that recently was merged with Palo Alto at one time desired to be annexed to San Mateo county. The people of the town in 1874 circulated a petition to be presented to the legislature but found much opposition from this county. Redwood City particularly was opposed to the proposed merger and gave the Mayfieldites no encouragement. Assemblyman James D Byrnes of San Mateo frowned upon the plan and so the petitioners threw up their hands in despair. Nothing further was done on the proposition until 1893 when another stir was made by the people of Mayfield for annexation. Still opposition existed and again the plan was laid aside. There is no question but that the people of Mayfield and vicinity were right in seeking anexation with San Mateo county for the present boundary line is not the one nature intended. The San Francisquito creek is the present line but it is irregular. Adobe creek between Mayfield and Mountain View is the proper and only fair boundary line between Santa Clara and San Mateo counties. Maybe some day this natural boundary line between the two counties will be established. The old residents of Mayfield knew the proper lines and strove earnestly to secure the necessary legislation but their appeals fell upon deaf ears. To show how crooked the present line is it might be stated that a corner of San Mateo county line runs almost upto Los Altos and from there zig zags up the mountains. There is hardly any doubt that the people of Palo Alto would like to become a part of this county and with a little agitation the movement could be set upon foot, favoring the annexation. Who will make the move?

THIRTY-ACRE TRACT PLACED ON MARKET

Thirty acres of the O'Keefe ranch at Ravenswood has been subdivided the one hundred and fifty lots are located close to North Palo Alto and will find ready sale as this property is the only realty for sale near the approaches of the Dumbarton bridge. The proposed Bayshore Highway will pass very near the choice tract. The subdivision is to be sewered, watered and electric lights and gas are to be brought to the tract from North Palo Alto. The soil is rich and fertile and the abundance of live oak trees add to its attractiveness. Those wishing a profitable investment would do well to consult the owners at once, as no doubt when the Dumbarton bridge is finished there will be a big rush for this property when prices will soar. Take this tip and get in on the ground floor.

PIONEER PASTOR DIES, WELL KNOWN HERE

He was for a short time a preacher and a county superintendent of schools in one of the northern counties of the state but in the 60's was transferred to San Francisco, where he had a regular pastorate and was also in charge of the Congregationa Chinese Mission work.

TRUSTEES FAVOR BAY DEVELOPMENT

Every member of the board of trustees is strongly behind the proposed development of Redwood City harbor, and the board as a whole will take any action within its power to further the project. This was the assurance given to E. B. Hinman, president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce last Monday night when he appeared at the meeting of the board of trustees in connection with the proposed developments.

City Engineer Dimmitt has been busy for some time preparing a report and estimate of the work to be done and the expenditure which will be necessary. This report, he stated, would be read ythis week. It was therefore, decided to hold a special meeting of the board and of the directors of the chamber of commerce last night, when the report will be considered and the steps necessary for proper co-operation with the federal government outlined.

The importance of co-operation between the local authorities and the federal authorities was emphasized by Hinman, at the meeting Monday. Unless the local people are willing to do their share, he told the board, it will be useless to expect the War Department to recommend the improvement of the harbor facilities by the federal government. He also urged a large attendance at the meeting which will be held in the city hall on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when the board of engineers of the War department will be present to conduct the hearing on the harbor matter.

The discussion of the harbor project formed the greater part of the business of the board of trustees. Several matters of minor importance were considered and Trustee McNulty, City Attorney Mansfield and City Engineer Dimmitt rendered a report upon the convention of the League of California Municipalities which they recently attended at Long Beach.

BOARD CONSIDERS DISTRICT DIVISION

That personal ideas should not be allowed to interfere with the good of the county was the statement made by District Attorney Franklin Swart when the matter of dedistricting the supervisoral districts was referred to him by the board of supervisors Monday.

The matter was brought to the attention of the board several weeks ago by Attorney Barlow Furgeson of Burlingame, representing the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce. It at first met with considerable opposition from some members of the board of supervisors, and was twice postponed.

When the matter again came up for hearing Monday, Furgeson was again on hand to urge the claims of redistricting, and cited the provisions of the code which made it imperative for the board to redistrict the county when the population changed the standing of the different districts. It is made by the statute obligatory upon the board to divide the county as nearly as possible into districts in which the population is equal.

When the matter was presented to the district attorney he upheld the opinion of those who seek a re-apportionment. "The law is plain," he said, "and the supervisors have no alternative."

A suggestion was made by H. C. Tuchsen of this city that the coastside districts and those in the northern part of the county be left in tact, but that a portion of the Second township be added to the third. District Attorney Swart stated that he thought that the two coastside townships should be combined. The matter will, however, be placed in the hands of a committee consisting of one man from each township, who are to be appointed by the board of supervisors. This committee will present its plan to the board for consideration.

While the question is being agitated concerning the reapportionment of the five townships of the county, it might be stated that this question was a much mooted one during the early history of the county and before the adoption of the new constitution in 1880, when each county of the state was compelled to establish five townships. Prior to the adoption of the new constitution all reapportionments were done by the state legislature and not by the board of supervisors. In 1870 there were six townships, the sixth being added that year by the annexation of Pescadero. The townships were San Bruno, San Mateo, Pulgas, Redwood City, Pescadero and Halfmoon Bay. We find Hugh Kelly serving as supervisor from Pulgas township and Charles Wentworth supervisor from the Redwood City township. In those days the board met about once every three months. The Third township was divided into two townships, Menlo Park and Woodside and adjacent territory being in the Pulgas township.

In 1873 he legislature reapportioned the county into three townships and on January 1st, 1874, the board met with three supervisors but the other supervisors sought to hold on. In April of that year the county was again reapportined into five townships, and remained so until the adoption of the new constitution when the townships again changed so that changing of the township lines is no new question but one that was bitterly fought or espoused in days of lang ago.

CALIFORNIA PIONEERS, SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Great men of the early days of California, formed the subject of an interesting and instructive lecture given by Roy W. Cloud, city superintendent of schools, before the Men's Club of the local Methodist church. The speaker is well versed in his subject and brings a human touch to the events of the early days which has placed him in great demand on such occasions and has also won for him the place of Grand Historian of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

In his address the speaker developed the life of David Broderick and told of his influence upon the state, told of Star King, James King of William, the hanging of Casey and Cora, and other events of the infancy of California. His address was listened to with attention and received with applause.

CHARLES JOSSELYN DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

His death caused by a stroke which he suffered last week, Charles Josselyn, Woodside millionaire, passed away last Friday at his rooms in the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco, where he was spending the winter. Josselyn has made his permanent home in this county for many years and was widely known. He for many years fostered theatres in this city and San Francisco, and was the buider of the Alhambro theater here, now the Masonic Temple. He was also one of the founders of the First National Bank here.

Josselyn is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Gerald Rathbone, Mrs. H. M. Spencer, Mrs. William Duncan, Mrs. Ettore Avenali and Miss Marjorie Josselyn.

IT'S A CASE OF BRING YOUR OWN AT COURT HOUSE

Although the evidence which has been accumulating in the vaults of the court house and jail may be strongly reminiful of the "old corner," there is no booze sold in the court house. Those who desire a "wee dram" to strengthen them before going to court to be tried for possession of liquor must bring their own. Of all of which we are reminded by the chap who brought a quart of claret to court to give him some moral support during the trial.

The bottle was not taken into the court of Judge Buck, but was discretely left in the men's lavoratory. Here Deputy Sheriff C. A. Calaighan found it almost emptied, but with enough of its contents still in it to indicate its make.

He find caused quite a flurry among the clerks of the courthouse, but no more could be found where that came from and the court house once more settled back to its stately air of dignity. Callaghan escorted the nearly "dead soldier" across the street to the jail.

JOSSELYN WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of the late Charles Josselyn was filed for probate this week in the office of the county clerk. The will is dated August 20, 1920, and is accompanied by a codicil dated Sept. 5, 1925. The widow of the late millionaire is named executrix and Ettore Avenali, William Duncan and Gerald Rathbone are executors.

The will bequeaths $1000 to the American Institute for Scientific Research, two-thirds of the residue is left to the surviving widow and the balance is divided among the five daughters, but the portion of Mrs. Spencer, one of the daughters, is left in trust with the First Federal Trust Co. as a life estate, to revert to the other four daughters, if Mrs. Spencer dies without heirs. SUGGESTIONS MADE BY TIMES-GAZETTE READERS

MAKE THE SCHOOL A COMMUNITY HOUSE SUBSCRIBER WRITES

There seems to be a real movement in Redwood City for municipal improvements. Several transfers of building sites have been made and from the stories in circulation, other transfers are in prospect. Stores, garages and theatres are to be built, and the needed and long-delayed command of "Forward March," has been issued and now "Let's go." It has been suggested by some of our business men of Redwood City that the Central school building on Broadway facing the court house, could with wisdom become the property of the municipality to be used as a Community building or hall, like unto the Cooper Institute of New York and Fanenal hall of Boston, Redwood City's Liberty hall, where the people could meet en mass to voice their opinions on matters of public concern, be the issues county, state or national.

I hope that the onward march is continued and the progress and improvement may be noted until the county seat of San Mateo county, shall have just claims for recognition as a real up-to-date, enterprising place.

Redwood City must be our ditty,
To let it die or rot, would be a pity,
So cheerup and onward Redwood City.

The question occurs to the minds of people visting or making a business call in Redwood City and is often asked, "Has this town any police officers and if so, where can they be found? In the court house? city hall? or Sequoia school? How are they recognized or distinguished from the ordinary citizen? It seems like such police officers should have a uniform indicating their official position. In fact every incorporated town should see to it, that the police are clothed in a uniform that would enable people to know whom the "guardian of the peace" are, and from whom they might be able to obtain information and the directions that most visitors and the general pubic are so frequently in need of. I say, uniform our police, and show that the county seat of San Mateo county has some sense of pride by adding dignity and authority to our law enforcement officers.

Uniform our Redwood City police force.

THE HARBOR SITUATION

NEVER perhaps since the gold rush days of California, or perhaps in the oil fields, has a city faced as promising future as appears to be the lot of Redwood City at present. Every indication points to a prosperity and a civic development which it is hard for even the most optimistic to realize.

Never before have the prospects for a great harbor here been so promising. The eyes of the whole of central California are now fixed upon the few miles of shore where the channel of the bay turns inland and deep water lays contiguous to the shore. These few miles are between Belmont and Dumbarton point.

San Francisco is intensely developed, industrially There are only a few acres of land left suitable for industrial sites, and the valuation of these few acres make them impractical for great industries. Here contions are different. The marsh land east of Redwood City offers sites for thousands of manufactories. The Dumbarton bridge will offer cheap transportation by trucks from the interior vallies. Deep water facilities only await development. Railroad facilities are already here and living conditions are ideal. What more can any community offer to the prospective speculator?

The United tSates government looks to Redwood City to solve the problem of water front facilities. San Francisco's waterfront is crowded to capacity at present, and the increasing surplus of shipping must find ficilities. These facilities can be found to greater advantage in Redwood City than in any other location, thinks the War department's engineers.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations are looking to Redwood City to solve their industrial problems. Every day applications are made to the Chamber of Commerce of our metropolitan neighbor for industrial sites. San Francisco has nothing to offer. The prospective manufacturers must be turned over to Oakland or some other city where industrial sites can be found for them. With properly developed harbor facilities here these potential investors could be found ideal sites on the peninsula; their money would be spent here and their developments would be added to the aggregate development which is taking place in this section.

One thing and one only is now necessary. The United States government is willing to spend millions to develop the bay and harbor facilities of San Francisco and other ports on the bay. It only asks one thing—CO-OPERATION.

The war department, in whose hands the developments are, only asks, What are the people of this section willing to do to help themselves—what assistance will the United States receive from the citizens?

There will be a meeting in the city hall next Tuesday when the matter will be heard before Major Schultz of the War Department Every citizen should feel an active interest in this matter. It is the greatest and most momentus meeting Redwood City has ever held. Go to the city hall Tuesday at 10 a. m. Show the War department that this is a matter in which he people of Redwood City are interested.

—o—o—o—

REDWOOD CITY, perhaps more than any other town of this section has suffered from competition from the outside. This has chiefly been due to a lack of proper co-operation among the merchants. Of late this sapping of the business of the community has been on the increase, rather than abating. One scheme after another is tried by outside merchants to induce the people of Redwood City to spend their money away from the town in which they live.

It is to combat this organized and insiduous propaganda that the merchants of Redwood City this week formed the Redwood City Merchants Association. Hitherto Redwood City merchants have been without protection. Individual merchants have expressed their disapproval of conditions which have existed here within the past few months, but it was found that organized effort was necessary to combat this evil.

With the formation of a wide-awake association, the local merchants are now able to retaliate against the agencies, who claiming to befriend the local merchants, have subverted the interests of those merchants to those of their out of town competitors. The determination to rid the town of this prpaganda has been expressed, and a radical change is expected along marketing lines in Redwood City.

A POOR GUESS

WRITING of his impressions of San Francisco, a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat in 1885 wrote: "San Francisco has reached the peak of its development and from now on will be found to decline." That in 1885—just forty years ago. We wonder whether the reporter of the Globe-Democrat would not have a very different story to tell today. Imagine San Francisco forty years ago and compare it with the great metropolis of today.

The writer does not remember San Francisco forty years ago, but he does remember San Francisco a few years before the great fire. He remembers the old horse cars which furnished quick transportation if you were not in a hurry; the lamp lighter with the long taper who used to light the street lamps along Market street; the little sation on Valencia street where the few trains used to stop after a circuituous trip through the turnip fields of San Mateo county. Compare these things with San Francisco today. Nor is it many years since the picnic parties used to travel out to the fields on the southern end of town and eat lunch under the trees. Those fields are now the sites of some of the finest residence sections of the city.

We wonder if that writer is still alive. If he is, he must admit that he made a bad guess San Francisco's decline has proved to be an accline of the most decided type, and the upward curve at this time, forty years after the pessimistic prophecy, seems still to continue into the future.

INVESTIGATION OF TAX SYSTEM URGED BY RILEY

In a speech delivered recently at the convention of tax appraisers in San Bernardino, State Controller Ray L. Riley attacked the present tax system of the state which has resulted in taxes being raised from $14,000,000 in 1910 to $73,000,000 in 1925 and which will result in the taxes being raised to $100,000,000 by 1928 if the present increase is continued. Riley suggests the formation of a body to investigate the tax problem and place their findings before the people of the state.

Regarding taxation Riley said in part as follows:

"During the year ending 1925 the counties and cities of California expended about $450,000,000 and the State $73,000,000. The Federal Government collected from the people of the State another $225,000,000, making a total tax bill of three-quarters of a billion dollars in round figures. This great sum of money cannot be taken from the private pocket for public purpose without affecting the business life of the State.

"The upward trend of taxation is well illustrated by the cost of State government during the past fifteeen years. The tax bill in 1910 for State purposes was $14,000,000; in 1915, $25,000,00; in 1920, $38,000,000; in 1922, $55,000,000; in 1924, $63,000,000,000 and in 1925, $73,000,000. There will be expended during the year 1926 $84,000,000 and in 1927, $95,000,000, for these sums are authorized expenditures of the coming two-year period. Within three years California will be spending $100,000,000 per year to support the State government.

"After taking into consideration the normal growth of the State, our tax system is responsible for most of the great increases in State taxation; and detached functions of government the rest of it. In urging a reorganization of the State government, I do so with the example of President Coolidge before me in the economies he has affected in the costs of the Federal government. Practically all of the cuts that have been made possible in Federal taxation have come about through the consolidation of detached agencies and functions with co-realted activities.

Effective economy is not possible unless the burden of taxation is placed upon all alike in proportion to their ability to pay. The spectacle of millions of dollars in appropriations at every session of the legislature passed to the executive department for the official axe is a travesty upon legislative deliberations and could not happen if those appropriations were to be reflected in the tax bills of legislative constituents. It is only of passing interest to the voters whether there has been State economy or not and usually a mass of conflicting claims so confuses us that all interest is lost in the controversy. If the story was told on the tax bills, there would be a far different sequel. The counties and cities accuse the State of extravagance and the State says that local taxes are to be blamed for our troubles. It is the old army game of "passing the buck."

"One thing is certain, we cannot continue to pile up taxes forever, without devising some new methcd of getting the money, for real estate is now taxed to the utmost of its ability to pay and it would take a fool-hardy person to propose another raise in corporation rates.

"We should have at the earliest opportunity an official body provided to investigate the tax system of this state and report their findings to the people for action. Such an investigation would require considerable time and careful consideration of the many problems involved, and the time is fast approaching when we must move in some direction and unless a logical program is presented we will probably take the line of least resistance and further complicate an intalerable tax situation.

Roth Horses Make Good At Show

Entries from the fine stable of Mrs. W. P. Roth of Woodside, San Mateo County, California, have been received at the horse show office of the Pacifc International Exposition. When an enterprising reporter at Stockton made a roster of the financial celebrities that were showing horses there, the summary ran to well above two hundred million dollors, and Mrs. Roth's name was very close to the top of the list. Certain it is that no one in the west has spent money lavishly over such a long perperiod of years for the purchase and maintenance of show horses as has Mrs. Roth and her general all around sportsmanship is of a character that might well be emulated. Mrs. Roth is one of the best women whips in America and shows her harness horses in many classes.

Her string is under the management of Harry Daniel who also does much of the riding for the stable, which has been greatly strengthened by recent purchases. Mrs. Roth and Daniels having just returned from a trip to the east where they visited most of the centers where animals of exceptional quality may be purchased.

Besides some undeveloped material, her recent acquisioitns are Edgware Marvel, Wanda and Juanita, heavy harness horses that will add much to the quality of heavy harness classes on the Pacific Coast. Edgware Marvel and Wanda are entered in the Portland Hotel $2,000 stake. The three, and Princess Connaught, are entered in all other classes to which they are eligible.

In the small hackney classes she has Sir Eric, Seaham Star and Pall Mall, the two former being the stable's choice for the Chamber of Commerce Stake. Sir Eric won thirty ribbons last year, twelve of them being blues, and almost made a clean sweep of the shows in California this year. Seaham Star won ten blues and thirteen other ribbons during the year.

Other entries are Marcheta and Happy Thought in the Walk Trot division and Robin Hood and Lovey Lou, five-gaited. The latter won the E. C. Converse Stake for juniors at Ventura, and is a promising candidate for the W. F. Turner Stake here.

Robin Hood is a consistent performer that places well in stake events and is still improving.

Sir Brubb is the best Shetland stallion on the coast and a strong competitor against the eastern champions that are attracted here by the only Shetland pony stake that is offered anywhere.

"THE LIMITED MAIL IS FILM THRILLER

Old Stage Melodrama Said to be Most Exciting of New Pictures

"The Limited Mail," the Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen which will play at the Sequoia Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, October 28 and 29, is a picturization of Elmer Vance's thrilling melodrama of the West, directed by George Hill.

The story concerns the fortunes of Bob Snobson (Monte Blue), a ne'er do-well Easterner who turns tramp and joins forces with Spike (Edward Gribbon) and Potts (Willard Louis), two others of the carefree brotherhood. When the three save the Limited Mail from destruction by a mountain landslide, Jim Fowler (Tom Gallery), the mail clerk, strikes up a friendship with Bob.

Romance and Thrills

Together the two men bring up Bob's motherless little son, Bobbie, (Jackie Huff) and together they fall in love with Caroline Dale (Vera Reynolds,) an attractive little waitress. Bob's past in the form of a chorus girl returns to disturb his romance, and further complications result when Jim is killed in a wreck due to Bob's carelessness in missing a danger signal. Bobbie falls into a stream when he follows Bob in his grief-stricken wanderings, and the man sacrifices the boy to rescue the Mail Train from a landslide.

How Spike rescues little Bobbie, how Caroline's faith is restored and she and Bob find happiness together forms the climax to the dramatic story.

In Colorado Mountains

"The Limited Mail," filmed in the Colorado mountains, is said to have some of the most beautiful shots even seen in a phtoplay; and the exciting sequences of train wrecks and landslides are said by reviewers in other cities to add materially to the enjoyment of this production.

Darryl Francis Zanuck wrote the scenario.

"WINDS OF CHANCE" BIG CAST, COMING

Film Version of Rex Beach's Great Alaskan Story Here Soon

Featuring a cast in proportion and prominence seldom equaled in a single production, the Sequoia Theatre on next Monday and Tuesday, October 26 and 27, will display Frank Lloyd's "Winds of Chance," a First National adaptation of Rex Beach's sensational novel of the same title.

Anna Q. Nilsson, Viola Dana, Ben Lyon, Victor McLaglen, Hobart Bosworth, Dorothy Sabastian, Claude Gillingwater, Philo McCollough, Charles Crockett, Fred Kohler, John T. Murray and Wade Boteler are among the principal members of the company, which has re-enacted the thrilling struggles and romance of the Alaskan gold rush of 1897 and 1898, which Mr. Beach wove into an abrobing yarn.

"Winds of Chance" is said to represent the most accurate film pay of its kind ever attempted, and, produced by the man who made the famous "Sea Hawk" on the same pretentious scale, the pictorial story of our last frontier, with its wildness, its unique friendships, its quick fortunes and its failures, is reputed to be replete with thrilling incidents, surprises and tense dramatic scenes with unusual heart appeal.

Numerous sourdoughs who participated in the actual rush to Dawson City after the discovery of gold and several of the Artic's most celebrated gamblers are among the thousands of characters who support the princapil members of the cast.

Dyea, Chilkoot, the Summit, Linderman, White Horse, Miles Canyon, Shep Camp and Dawson City as it was in boom days are among the backgrounds of the big drama, with all of the atmosphere of the rush preserved and enhanced in the filming.

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded bp our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. t is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening gasoline smell in your clothes.

Another "Bull" Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Ziegfeld Follies and screen star, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

Improving on History

I just finished hearing a Politician, one of the Washington Boys, talk on Abraham Lincoln. The only thing I could picture in common between him and Lincoln was that they had both been in Washington. When a Politician aint talking about himself he is talking about Lincoln. Lincoln has had more Public men speak of his good qualities, and fewer copy any of them, than any man America ever produced. His famous address was only about two hundred words long. No Politician has ever been able to even copy his briefness. In fact that is the last one of his qualities that they would try to copy. Lincoln said more in those 200 words than has been said in the entire City of Washington in the last 10 years, and here is a quality that no historian or speaker has ever brought out before. At the completion of the Gettysburg speech, he wisely refused one of Grant's Cigars, and borrowed a sack of "Bull" Durham from an Ex Southern private, rolled his own, got on his Mule and went back to Washington.

ST. MARY ALUMNUS DIES IN NEW YORK

The death of Edward McGanney in New York last week will bring to the minds of all old St. Mary's College boys, the early career of him and his pioneer family. McGanney graduated with honors from the famous institution of learning when it was located on the Mission road in the later seventies. He immediately went to New York where he became a lawyer of note and a man of prominence. His father, the late Dan McGanney was a well-known figure in the early mining days of the state. He lived at Smartsville, Yuba county.

After years of struggle he struck it rich in a placer mine, making nearly a million dollars on his property. He erected a palatial home and traveled considerably. Six of his sons were graduated from St. Mary's and all became prominent in the state. McGanney by unwise investments lost his fortune and passed away in poor circumstances. While working his mine an accident occurred whereby one of his men was killed. McGanney, in the kindness of his heart, sent the man's son with his boys to St. Mary's, McGanney defraying all the expenses of the boy's education. The boy afterward became one of the noted lawyers of the state.

The boy was none other than Charles Heggerty at one time a law partner of the late George Knight, the noted orator who seconded the nomination of William McKinley and who performed a like service for two other presidents. Heggerty has offices in the Crocker building, San Francisco, doing a big business and is considered one of the large legal minds of the metropolis.

Edward McGanney was a bright scholar, leaving a wonderful career at St. Mary's as student. His career at Gotham was very successful. He only visited the coast twice since leaving it in the late seventies. His brother, D. C. McGanney, is connected with the Appellate Court in San Francisco.

Those who were schoolmates of the deceased, now living in this locality are: E. F. Fitzpatrick, Judge Thomas J. Lennon, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court; W. J. Murray, Menlo Park, J. H. O'Keefe, Menlo Park, and the late Rev. Father Sullivan was his seatmate at college.

MOTOR MAGAZINE FEATURES ATTRACTIONS OF SAN MATEO CO.

San Mateo county receives much valuable publicity in the October issue of "Motor Land," the Pacific Coast magazine of motoring, published by the California State Automobile Association. The current issue of the Association's magazine devotes the entire editorial contents of its 16-page rotogravure section to a pictorial description of this county.

Under the captin "Delightful Little Journeys Through San Mateo County," Motor Land publishes 24 photographic studies of scenic spots in the county made by Charles M. Miller, noted out-door photographer. The pictures are reproduced in attractive rotogravure and accmpanied by a three-page article by Elford Eddy describing the points of interest in this district.

"San Mateo county is a land of delightful little journeys for the motorist who seeks escape from the dull cares of business and hungers for the open spaces," the motoring magazine declares. "It offers an escapes from the bustle and confinement of the city that is ideal, being blessed by a diversity of scenery it would be hard to find anywhere so near and accessible to a great metropolis.

"The far points of San Mateo are brought within a short distance of San Francisco by a system of highways not only adopted to rapid transit but affording also vistas which for their diversity of scene and interest, are incomparable.

"To thousands of San Franciscans "the city" is a workshop or an office, with breakfast-room, dining-room across the bay or down the peninsula. Seven miles from the heart of the busy business district lies the San Mateo county line, and beyond are the homes of thousands of commuters, rich man and working man, who every morning pour into the city by steam road, trolley, bus and family car, and every evening pour out again by the same conveyances, a ceaseless rise and fall of human tide."

Beginning with the Skyline boulevard by Lake Merced, the scenes pictured in Motor Land lead the motorist over the winding pavement of San Pedro mountain, along the coast of Halfmoon Bay, back to the Skyline boulevard again past the Crystal Springs lakes and dam, through Portola valley, Woodside and La Honda and finally over the broad pavement of El Camino Real.

"This is a little land of romance, a poem, a song, and even the spots you see and the places you pass through lend themselves to imaginative thought," the Automobile Association's magazine says. "Winter or summer, spring or fall, fair weather or foul, there always is the sense of vastness, or might. Always is there grandeur of prospective, always is the picture one to arrest the attention and enrapt the soul of painter and poet."

According to an announcement made by Henry L. Willey, San Mateo district manager of the State Automobile Association, this issue of Motor Land will be read by over 60,000 motor car owners in Northern and Central California.

Shellac

Lac is a resinous substance exuded from an East Indian scale insect. It consists of a granular substance forming cells for the shelter of the eggs of the insect and incrusting the twigs of various East Indian trees. The females are embedded in the mass and certain parts of their bodies contain a red fluid, furnishing crimson and scarlet dyes, which are dissolved out of the stick or "seedlac," leaving the shellac of commerce.

Fraternity Spirit Strong

Fraternal and other organizations are very popular with Americans. The census bureau reports that in one year 84 establishments made $10,500,000 worth of emblems and insignia.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

Mrs. Henrietta Nielson has sold her property on the highway, near the grammar school building for $8,500. The purchasers are San Jose parties. Mrs. Nielson will move with her children to San Mateo where she has considerable property. The sale s subject to confirmation of the Superior court.

The sale of the Dr. Wales home in the Drexler tract has evidently fallen through. The property was sold to Mr. Scollard, a Chicago capitalist, some time ago for $28,500 and the sale was enfirmed by the Superior court. Scollard paid the sum of $2,500 on the property but before the confirmation of the sale he departed, leaving no address. He occupied the Wales home after advancing an initial payment. Most likely the place will be readvertised for sale.

A. E. Thomas has returned from a month's visit to his old home in Saskatchewan, Canada. While there he encountered a snow storm in September which covered the landscape two feet. When he left last week the farmers were threshing the wheat crop. Mr. Thomas is glad to be back in God's country, Menlo Park. Before his return he purchased a farm of 350 acres of choice farming land for $5,500. The values of realty here and at Saskatchewan are at variance. That ranch in Menlo Park could not be bought for less than $50,000.

Miss Eleanor A. Owen, the pretty and charming niece of James G. Mason, is here from her home in Saratoga, spending a brief vacation. The young lady is the secretary of a large canning company of San Jose. Miss Ella Canning is also a guest of Mr. Masons. She has just returned from Honolulu and her account of that country as depicted in several newspaper articles demonstrate her ability as a writer. She is a sister of Father Thomas Canning.

Mrs. Cora Parker entertained at her beautiful home near the State highway on Wednesday evening last the following ladies: Mrs. C. Maloney, Mrs. Harry Doughty, Mrs. Di Natale, Mrs. George Nunn, Mrs. Frances Logan, Miss Frances Logan, Miss Bertha Kuck, Mrs. John Welsh, Miss Dorothy Gale, Mrs. T. Stradley, Miss Nancy Nunn, Mrs. C. Lundquist. Mrs. Lundquist is a noted warbler and with her sweet voice of volume and charm entertained the guests with several of her favorite selections. Tempting refreshments were served on small tables, daintily decorated in a pink and blue color effect. The occasion was one of joy and happiness for those present and will be treasured by them as one of their pleasant social events.

Mrs. E. F. Barron who passed away at her home in San Mateo this week was well known in this locality. As a young and beautiful girl she came as a bride of the late E. F. Barron to Mayfield to reside. Barron made a fortune in early days in the butcher business in San Francisco. Coming to Mayfield he bought the well-known Judge Wallace estate, just outside of town. It was the show place of that locality in the seventies. The Barron estate some few years ago sold it is to Edward [illegible]ner, formerly of Menlo Park. A military school is now located in the old building, once the scene of many brilliant social affairs.

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge left last evening for Los Angeles to attend the meeting of the Harbor and Rivers committee and to go over the water ways in the southern city. This will take him two weeks. From Los Angeles he will proceed to Washington to finish some work before Congress convenes early in December. The senator may not return before next June or July, in time to get into the senatorial contest. Mr. Shortridge has made a splendid official, always on the job and looking after the affairs of his state. His duties will keep him at Washington so that he will not be able to do much campaigning. His many friends throughout the state will rally to his standard and conduct a spirited campaign in his absence. There is hardly any doubt but that he will receive al almost unanimous vote in the state he has served so faithfully and well. The senator has made such a brilliant record he should have no opponent.

A friend has sent the following recipe for home brew and requests that it be published in this column, so here it is:

Chase wild bullfrogs for three miles and gather up the hops. To them, add ten gallons of tan bark, half a pint of shellac and one bar of homemade soap. Boil 36 hours, then strain through an l. W. W. sock to keep it from working. Add one grass hopper to each pint to gove it a kick. Pour a little into the kitchen sink. If it takes the enamel off, it is ready for bottling.

Congressman Arthur Free visited friends in eMnlo Park on Tuesday Mr. Free leaves for Washington next Tuesday

Mrs. A. Pasante is here from Salinas visited her daughter, Mrs. Mark Laughlin. She is a pioneer of Monterey county.

Mrs. George Pullman will leave next week for Chicago for an indefinite period.

The Companions' Card Club will hold a card party Tuesday, October 27, in Duff and Doyle hall. As a door prize a beautiful comforter will be given away. Admission 25 cents.

H. Schaberg Chosen To Head Association

The board of directors of the San Mateo County Building and Loan Association last Monday evening elected Herman Schaberg to succeed P. P. Chamberlain as president of thatorganization. The appointment followed the reception of the resignation of Chamberalin, who has held the position for the past twelve years.

During the time in which Mr. Chamberlain has headed the Association he has been largely responsible in making it one of the best known financial institutions in the county. He succeeded J. Marcus, the first president of the concern.

The new president is also well known in connection with the Building & Loan Association, having served as its secretary for many years. His valuable business experience will be a decided asset to the organization.

BROTHER OF MRS. DUSEL BURIED TUESDAY

Mrs. William Dusel of Arlington road is receiving the sympathy of her many friends in the loss of her brother, Paul Kuhn, who passed away Saturday at the Dusel home here. The deceased together with two brothers composed the well-known vaudeville troupe known as "The Three White Kuhns." He was a native of Kansas, Mo.

In addition to Mrs. Dusel the deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. E. B. Harvey of Stockton, and four brothers, Charles and Robert, who were with him on the stage and Fred and William Kuhn.

The funeral was held Tuesday from the parlors of the James Crowe Co., and was followed by interment in Cypress Lawn cemetery.
